Census 1961

Programme of Census Reports and other census information

The Census 1961, England and Wales, Preliminary Report, published in June, 1961, contains a general note on the taking of the census, some brief preliminary statistical commentary and provisional figures of the population, private households and private dwellings for all local authority areas (counties, boroughs, urban and rural districts) regions, conurbations and New Towns.

The present series of County Reports comprises the statistics of local interest which were collected on a 100 per cent basis. The subjects covered are population and acreages of local government areas; distribution of the local populations according to sex, age and marital condition; birthplace, citizenship and nationality; private households and their size distribution, the buildings, dwellings and rooms in which they live, the tenure of their accommodation and certain household arrangements possessed by them; institutions of different types, housing various categories of non-private population. This series does not contain any information which was collected on a 10 per cent sample basis and therefore does not include distributions of the population by terminal education age or by social class as were included in the corresponding series of the 1951 Census.

The Report on Scientific and Technological Qualifications gives statistics of persons with those qualifications and the occupations and industries in which they work. This report is on a 10 per cent sample basis and relates to Great Britain.

The Report on the Welsh Speaking Population gives statistics derived from the question about speaking the Welsh language addressed to those enumerated in Wales and Monmouthshire.

The Birthplace and Nationality tables comprise summaries of the information given in the County Reports on birthplace, citizenship and nationality.

The Usual Residence tables compare the enumerated census population in local areas with the population usually resident in those areas and also give the numbers enumerated who are usually resident outside England and Wales classified by country of usual residence and by age.

The Age, Marital Condition and General Tables mainly comprise summaries of the information given in the County Reports on local populations, age and marital condition, with the various categories of non-private population.

The Housing Tables, Parts I and III and the Household Composition Tables will include summaries of the information on housing and private households given in the County Reports, together with more extensive tabulations for England and Wales. There will be tables of buildings, dwellings and households, summary housing indices and household composition tables. The latter will provide figures on the composition and the social and economic characteristics of households and families and the types of person included in these groups and will be on a 10 per cent sample basis.

The Migration tables will give statistics of the numbers and characteristics of people who changed their usual residence in the year before Census Day; details of their age, marital condition, socio-economic group, occupation and industry will be given together with similar information about the remainder of the population classified by the length of time they have lived at their present usual residence. Numbers of people moving will also be given for local areas with some details for larger areas. These tables will be on a 10 per cent sample basis.

The Workplace tables will show the population resident in one area and working in another, the units of area being boroughs, urban and rural districts and New Towns. This report will be on a 10 per cent sample basis.

The tables on Occupation will give statistics of the occupied population based on their personal occupation (classified according to the Classification of Occupations, 1960)* including statistics for usually resident populations of the larger areas, and with reference to age, marital condition, employment status (manager, employer, etc.) and socio-economic group. These tables will be on a 10 per cent sample basis.

The tables on Industry will give statistics of the occupied population based on the branch of economic activity to which their occupations contribute with identification of employment status categories, age-groups and married women, the branch of economic activity units being those of the Standard Industrial Classification†. Statistics of local populations will be based on the area containing the place of work. These tables will also include an analysis of each important industry or group of industries showing the principal occupations which contribute to it. These tables will be on a 10 per cent sample basis.

The Education tables will give figures relating to the terminal education age of persons resident in local areas and, for England and Wales and the regions and conurbations, classifications by age and by occupation. These tables will be on a 10 per cent sample basis.

The Fertility tables will give statistics derived from the questions on date of marriage and number of children which were put to women who had ever been married.

The Index of Place Names will give the location and the census population of places with defined boundaries.

Commentaries. These will be compiled and published as soon as time permits. They will be included in the same volume as the tables where this can be done without delay, but in other cases reports on the tables will be issued at a later date. In addition there will be an administrative report on the census as a whole, and a statistical report on census methodology.

Note

With regard to census information not presented in the published reports and tables referred to above, Section 4(2) of the Census Act, 1920, empowers the Registrar General, if he so thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or person, to cause abstracts to be prepared containing any such statistical information, being information which is not contained in the census reports made by him, and which in his opinion it is reasonable for that authority or person to require, as can be derived from the census returns.

This provision is available to meet any special demand for census statistics of a greater degree of elaboration, whether in respect of subject matter or area, than those given in the official reports. In particular, provision has been made for the extraction during the processing of a selection of data for every ward in boroughs and urban districts and every civil parish in rural districts. This information is equivalent to the scale of publication for an area of under 50,000 population as regards data collected on a 100 per cent basis and a more restricted selection of basic figures obtained on a 10 per cent sample basis. More details will be supplied on request.

Census 1961, Housing Tables Part II

Tenure and Household Arrangements

General Explanatory Notes

General Note

This is the second of three volumes which together comprise the main 1961 Census statistics on housing. The three volumes are:-

Housing Tables Part I      Buildings, Dwellings and Households.

Housing Tables Part II     Tenure and Household Arrangements.

Housing Tables Part III    Local Housing Indices.

Housing Tables 16 to 25 appear in this part and contain information on the tenure and household arrangements of households and dwellings.

Figures are given in full detail for England and Wales and in a more condensed form for regions, conurbations and urban/rural aggregates. Detailed figures for counties and local authority areas have already been published in the County Report series and are not repeated here.

Table 20 and the England and Wales section of Table 24 have already been published as the Housing National Summary Tables but appear in their appropriate places in this volume.

The tabulations on the composition of private households which are based on the 10 per cent sample will be published as further volumes in the series of census publications (see "Programme of Census Reports and other census information" on page v).

DEFINITIONS

Building

The general definition of a building in the enumerator's instruction book read as follows:- "Every structure comprising one or more rooms or other spaces enclosed within external or party walls is to be regarded as a building".

This general description was amplified by a series of examples and exceptions:

Each house in a semi-detached pair or in a terrace or back-to-back group was a separate building.

A block of flats in which separate apartments were linked by passages or by balconies and staircases or lift-shafts was a single building.

A structure separate from, but subsidiary to, a main building and which was occupied (wholly or partly) by members of the same household as the main building (e.g. staff or other residents) was treated as part of the main building. A similar structure occupied only by a separate household or households was treated as a separate building. Other subsidiary structures such as a barn near to a farm house or a garage near to a private house, which were not used as living quarters, were not regarded as separate buildings.

A group of structures in a common enclosure forming a single factory or similar establishment and not used as living accommodation was treated as a single building.

Caravans, houseboats, barges, boats and other similar mobile structures were treated as buildings and included in the tables only if they were some person's usual residence on census night. Other mobile structures were not included in the tables.

Chalets, huts, shacks, tents, converted railway carriages and similar non-permanent structures were treated as buildings if they were some person's usual residence on census night. Otherwise they were treated as vacant buildings only if they had at least one of the following characteristics (which were concerned only with construction and not state of repair) -

- (a) the shorter main wall was (at a rough visual estimate) 15 ft. or more long, OR
- (b) the walls were of brick, stone and mortar, concrete, breeze blocks or similar materials (walls of wood, asbestos, corrugated iron, stones without mortar, lath or expanded metal and plaster or stonedash were not sufficient) OR
- (c) the roof was of ceramic (not asbestos) tiles, slate, thatch, shingles or concrete. Corrugated iron, roofing felt, tarpaulin, etc., were not sufficient.

If the vacant structures had none of these characteristics they were ignored by the enumerators as also were dilapidated buildings which were uninhabitable.

Standard pre-fabricated houses of the kind built after the last war were treated as permanent buildings.

A further note was given to the enumerators to help them to distinguish buildings with walls with lath and plaster or stonedash from those with brick walls rendered in the same way.

Type of Building

All permanent buildings were classified by the enumerator into one of four types:-

Non-residential

A building was classed as non-residential if it was not normally occupied by any person and no person passed census night there. The presence of non-residential watchmen, shift-workers, etc., did not prevent a building being classified as non-residential.

Institutional

If the building was a residential establishment in which some form of communal feeding arrangements was provided, it was classified as institutional. Such establishments included, for example, hospitals, hotels, boarding houses, residential schools and colleges, prisons and remand homes, army camps and naval shore establishments.

Partly residential

If only part of a building (other than an institutional establishment) was used for residential purposes it was classified as partly residential. A factory, store or block of offices which contained a caretaker's flat would be so classified. In a building much of which was used for residential purposes, the presence of a shop or office would cause it to be classified as partly residential; but if the non-residential part was used as a surgery in a doctor's or dentist's house, as a study by an author or clergyman, or an insurance or other agency was operated from it by a member of the household, then the building would still be classified as wholly residential.

Wholly residential

Any building which was wholly used for residential purposes was so classified; see also the examples quoted under 'Partly residential'.

Dwelling

The general definition of a dwelling was "a building or part of a building which provides structurally separate living quarters".

A dwelling was normally a private dwelling house, flat or maisonette built as such, with a front door of its own. Where houses or other buildings had been adapted to provide residential accommodation in smaller units, these smaller units were regarded as dwellings if they were structurally separate i.e. if such a unit had a separate front door to the street and was self-contained (separated from the rest of the building by a wall or solid partition), it was counted as a dwelling. When access to such a unit was through part of the building, it was counted as a dwelling only if access to the main door was gained by means of a common staircase or landing. If it could only be reached through the quarters occupied or normally occupied by another household (including a hall) it was not counted as a dwelling. In order for such a unit to count as a dwelling it also had to be possible to move between its rooms internally without making use of the common staircase or landing. Normally there would only be one door of the unit opening on to the common internal part of the building (disregarding access to shop or office portions of the building).

A dwelling would usually have more than one living room in addition to kitchen and bathroom, but one-room flats were counted as dwellings if they met the conditions set out above, provided they had either a separate kitchenette, or a cooking stove in the room and a separate bathroom and watercloset. Bed-sitting rooms (sometimes called one-room flatlets) were not counted as separate dwellings.

The whole of the quarters occupied or normally occupied by households (i.e. the household spaces) within any building had to be included on one or other of the dwellings within it. If the building was arranged in such a way that there was no reasonable way of dividing it into dwellings, the whole building was regarded as a single dwelling.

In a hotel, boarding house, hospital or other institution a private dwelling was identified only if it was occupied by a private household. Generally if such a dwelling was vacant or occupied by members of the institution not constituting a private household it was not counted but married quarters in defence establishments were usually counted as dwellings even if they were vacant. In an institution the provision for counting a unit as a dwelling only if it met certain conditions as to access was modified; private quarters were counted as a dwelling even though access was through the main institution, but not if access was through another private dwelling.

Dwellings have been classified into permanent and non-permanent dwellings. A non-permanent dwelling is a dwelling in a mobile or non-permanent structure of the type not counted as a building unless it was some person's usual residence on census night (see page vii). All other dwellings have been classified as permanent.

Room

The count of rooms was obtained by the enumerator by verbal enquiry from the household. A room was defined to the enumerator as follows:-

"A room is any covered space surrounded by walls, doors, or windows and used by the household for living, eating or sleeping. Rooms available for these purposes but not actually in use e.g. unfurnished spare bedrooms, should be included.

Landings, lobbies, recesses, closets and bathrooms should not be counted as rooms, nor should store rooms, offices, warehouses, shops or any other rooms used for non-domestic purposes.

A kitchen, kitchenette or scullery should be counted if meals are regularly eaten there, otherwise it should not".

Private Household

A private household was defined to the enumerator as follows:-

"A household comprises one person living alone or a group of persons living together, partaking of meals prepared together and benefiting from a common housekeeping.

A person or persons living but not boarding with a household in a house, flat, etc., should be treated as a separate household. But a person living with a household who usually has at least one main meal a day provided by that household while in residence is part of that household. (Breakfast counts as a meal for this purpose).

A household must have exclusive use of at least one room. If two people share one room and do not have exclusive use of at least one other room they should be treated as one household".

The rules for identifying a private household in a hotel, boarding house, hospital or other institution were in general the same as those given above except that a person or group was only treated as a private household if they were living in structurally separate quarters and either a family group doing much of their catering separately from the institution or a person or group who did not have any meals provided daily by the institution.

Comparison of definition of "household", 1951 and 1961.

The general purpose of the definition of a household which was used at the 1951 Census was the same as in 1961. In 1951 however it was not required that a household should have exclusive use of a room and a number of one-room dwellings are therefore shown in the tables as shared by more than one household. Also in 1951 private households which lived within the boundary of an institution were included as part of the population of the institution and not enumerated separately as they were in 1961, if they met the above conditions.

Households sharing dwellings

Households which did not occupy the whole of a dwelling have been divided into two groups; those which had exclusive use of both a kitchen stove or range and a kitchen sink, and those households which did not have exclusive use of both facilities. The information to make this division was obtained by verbal enquiry by the enumerator who then made entries 'E' (exclusive use) or 'N' (not exclusive use) in the appropriate panel on the schedule.

Non-private Household

Non-private households are excluded from these tables.

"Non-private households" covers people who were enumerated in hotels, boarding houses and institutions or otherwise grouped in establishments with some functional purpose other than that of providing food or satisfying other domestic convenience. They include also people in defence establishments, ships at moorings or anchorage or on coastwise voyages, and a small miscellaneous element. A household classified by the enumerator as private was re-classified in the census office as non-private if the number of boarders or the number of inmates, patients or staff, etc., was five or more. In 1951, in doubtful cases, where there were ten or more people in the group, the household was treated as non-private if the number of boarders exceeded the number in the family of the head of the household; all households with under ten people were treated as private. If all the people who were enumerated in a non-permanent structure (hut, chalet, etc.) or in a mobile structure (caravan, houseboat, etc.) gave a usual residence elsewhere they were all transferred to the residual "other population" group of non-private households. In some institutions there are private households having separate accommodation and catering, e.g. the medical superintendent of a hospital with his family, the headmaster of a school or a hotel manager. These have been excluded from the non-private households to which they are attached and included with other private households; their accommodation has been included in the private dwellings. In 1951 they were included in the non-private population.

HOUSEHOLD SPACE

The household space is the quarters occupied or normally occupied by a private household. In a dwelling which is normally occupied by a number of households any vacant accommodation has usually been regarded as a single vacant household space, although a few household spaces which became vacant just before census date appear in the tables as separate vacant spaces in dwellings which already contain one vacant space.

Occupied and vacant dwellings

A permanent dwelling was regarded as "occupied" if one or more households were enumerated in the dwelling or at the time of the census were usually resident in the dwelling although not present on census night. A permanent dwelling was regarded as "vacant" if no household was enumerated there on census night and if it was not the usual residence of any household.

Households with all members temporarily absent

Whereas most tables of households are limited to those households with a member present at census, Table 19 gives details for households with all members absent. These are households of which all members were temporarily absent at the time of the census.

TENURE

Each household was asked to state how they occupied their accommodation. For details see Panel L on the specimen schedule included in this volume and Note 9 on the back of that schedule.

(c) By virtue of employment

Other examples of accommodation held by virtue of employment in addition to the tied cottage and the caretaker's flat cited on the schedule are accommodation provided by a firm for its employees, that provided by the Police for police officers and the vicarage. This category did not include accommodation obtained by an employer for an employee, without any condition as to employment.

Where a person obtained the accommodation by virtue of his employment, but had since retired from or left that employment the household should still have been included in this category. Generally, such accommodation would be occupied for a limited period after the particular employment came to an end.

(f) In some other way - please give details

This category was provided for various tenancies where the household might be in doubt as to the correct answer: in such cases a full description was sought. All these cases have been assigned, on the basis of the information given, to one of the other categories.

Tenure of dwellings

The question on tenure was asked of each household. From this information a classification of dwellings by tenure has been derived. When only one household was present at census the dwelling was assigned the tenure of that household. When there was more than one household present and their tenure categories differed, the dwelling was assigned to the highest ranking tenure category returned by a household present in the dwelling. For this purpose the tenure categories were ranked in the following order:-

1. Owner-occupied
2. Rented with a farm, shop or other business premises
3. Held by virtue of employment
4. Rented from a Local Authority or New Town Corporation
5. Rented from a private person or company; unfurnished
6. Rented from a private person or company; furnished.

Household Arrangements

For the question on household arrangements see Panel M on the schedule and Note 10 on the reverse of the schedule.

Dwellings by household arrangement

Table 23 gives a classification of dwellings by the availability of household arrangements. The main aim of this table is to estimate the number of dwellings which lack the various household arrangements. As the question was addressed to individual households, Table 23 has had to be derived from these answers and the accuracy of estimates made for dwellings varies according to the type of dwelling under consideration.

(i) The number of unshared permanent dwellings that do not contain any one arrangement, for example a watercloset, is approximately equal to the sum of two elements:

- (a) those occupied by households which all lack the arrangement
- (b) those occupied by households which share the arrangement. Group (b) can only occur in Building Types 2 and 3 where there may be a common arrangement on a landing, etc. It can be assumed that members of one household are unlikely to enter the dwelling of another household to make use of the household arrangement.

(ii) The number of shared permanent dwellings in Building Type 1 (i.e. only one dwelling in a wholly residential building) which do not contain any one arrangement is equal to the number occupied by households which all lack it. The same is nearly true of non-permanent dwellings since few of them will be either shared or in buildings containing anything but the one dwelling.

(iii) For shared permanent dwellings in Building Types 2 and 3 the number which do not contain an arrangement can only be estimated as lying between certain limits:-

The lower limit is given by the number occupied by households which all lack the arrangement;

The upper limit is obtained by subtracting the number of dwellings with at least one household having exclusive use of all four arrangements (in Col. 1 of Table 23) from the total number of shared permanent dwellings in Building Types 2 and 3 (in Col. b of Table 23).

Limits for the number of all dwellings (irrespective of building type) which do not contain a given arrangement are provided by the sums of the above figures which are specific for building type. Where shared permanent buildings in Building Types 2 and 3 are a small proportion of the total a good approximation to the total dwellings not containing the arrangement is given by adding the number of dwellings occupied by households all of which lack the arrangement to the number of unshared permanent dwellings in Building Types 2 and 3 sharing the arrangement (i.e. by households of which at least one shares the arrangement and none of which have exclusive use of the arrangement).

QUALITY OF FIGURES

In 1961 for the first time a post enumeration survey was taken in order to check the information collected at the census. A full description of the survey will be given in the general report on the census; in the explanatory notes to volumes of tables the post enumeration survey results will only be given where they give a warning of poor quality in figures appearing in the volume.

The items relevant to these tables which were checked in the post enumeration survey were the total count of the number of buildings and households and the answers relating to tenure and household arrangements. Some points on the last two topics appear below. The post enumeration survey did not indicate any significant error in the total numbers of buildings and households.

Tenure

The number of households returned as renting their accommodation unfurnished from a private person or company was understated on the original census schedule compared with the post enumeration survey. The households which should have been returned as "renting unfurnished" were returned in all other groups except "holding their accommodation by virtue of employment". The post enumeration survey indicates that the numbers wrongly returned in the other groups did not differ greatly. However because of the sampling errors involved only the overstatement of the number renting furnished is statistically significant.

Household Arrangements

(i) Cold water tap

The post enumeration survey indicates that the number of households returned as being without a cold water tap is understated but it is not possible to give an accurate estimate of the degree of understatement due to the relatively small size of this group of households.

(ii) Watercloset

The post enumeration survey indicates that the number of households returned as being without a watercloset is understated. Some ambiguity in the wording of the questionnaire used for the post enumeration survey means that the amount of understatement cannot be estimated accurately but it appears that the number of such households was at least 1.5 million compared with the number returned of 1,008,802.

Urban and Rural Aggregates

Urban and rural aggregates relate to groups of local authority areas by type (all those within conurbations, urban areas, rural districts) and, in the case of urban areas, by size of their resident population as estimated at Census Day (23rd April 1961). 'Urban areas' include boroughs and urban districts as defined under the Local Government Acts, and rural districts are also as defined by those Acts.

Presentation Conventions

The symbol - indicates zero.

A blank indicates that a particular combination of line and column is impossible or would contain a derived figure such as a rate which has not been calculated.

The symbol 0 indicates less than one half of a unit but not zero.

Census Schedule

Map

An outline map showing the boundaries of Standard Regions, Conurbations and Counties is included on page xiv.

E. 90

SCHEDULE

Prescribed by Regulations under the Census Act, 1920, as the form to be used for approximately nine tenths of the population in England (excluding Monmouthshire), for the purpose of returns in respect of (a) Private Households, and (b) Other persons in respect of whom no other form of schedule is prescribed.

For Enumerator's Use
Census District No. . . . .	Enumeration District No. . . . .
Name and postal address of householder or other person responsible for making the return. . . . .

NOTICE

1. The Head, or person acting as Head, of a private Household is required by law to make a return in this form in respect of all persons (members of the household, including visitors, employees and boarders) who are present at midnight on the night of Sunday, 23rd April, 1961, in the dwelling, and all persons who arrive at the dwelling and join the household on Monday, 24th April, 1961, before the collection of the schedule, and who have not been enumerated elsewhere.

Note.—Any one or more persons separately occupying a house or part of a house, flat, apartment, etc., will be regarded as a separate household for Census purposes. Persons who usually have at least one meal a day provided by the household while in residence will be regarded as part of the household.

2. Every person is required by law to give to the person responsible for making the return such information as may be necessary to enable the return to be made. No use may, however, be made of such information by the person to whom it is given except for the purpose of making the return.

3. A person who has applied in the prescribed manner to make a separate confidential return will not be liable to give information to the Head; and in such case the person responsible for making the return will only be liable to include in his return in respect of that person the particulars required in Columns A and B within.

4. The schedule will be called for on MONDAY, 24th APRIL, by the appointed enumerator; in order that he may not be delayed it must be ready with the answers written in the proper columns early on the morning of that day. If the answers appear to be incomplete or inaccurate, the enumerator must ask any questions necessary to enable him to correct the schedule.

5. The person responsible for making the return may, if unable to deliver the schedule to the enumerator personally, arrange for some other person to do so on his behalf. If desired, the schedule may be handed to the enumerator under cover.

6. If any person whose duty it is to make a return or to give information refuses to do so, or wilfully gives false information, or uses otherwise than for the purpose of making the return any information given him for that purpose, he will be liable to a fine not exceeding Ten Pounds.

7. The contents of the schedule are strictly confidential.

E. M. T. FIRTH,
Registrar General.

NOTES

CONFIDENTIALITY.

- (c) If a husband and wife are both present on Census Night write their names on consecutive lines.

2. Usual Address. (Column C)

- (a) School Children, Students, etc., who live away from home during term should give their home address, not their term-time address.
- (b) Members of H.M. Forces should give the address of their married quarters or other home address.
- (c) Resident Staff should regard the private house, boarding house, or other premises where they live as their usual address.

- (d) For persons with no settled address write "None".
- (e) For boarders who have a settled residence with this household write "Here".

3. Age. (Column D)

- (a) If the age is not known exactly, give it as accurately as possible.
- (b) Even where the birthday is only a few days after Census day, the required age is the number of years at the last birthday and 11 months.
- (c) For babies under one month old write "Under 1 month".

4. Marriage, etc. (Column E)

If a person is legally separated, not divorced, write "Married".

By virtue of Employment. If the accommodation is provided in connection with the employment of a member of the household and ceases to be provided after the employment comes to an end (e.g. a tied cottage, caretaker's flat) write "Yes" at (c) whether rent is paid or not.

10. Household Arrangements. (Panel M)

- (a) Cold water tap. This refers to a tap within the building. It does not include a tap in an open yard or a public standpipe. If only the latter are available, the answer "None" should be given.
- (b) Hot water tap. This means water piped to any form of heating appliance which will allow hot water to be drawn from a tap within the building, e.g. a boiler, tank with immersion heater, geyser, or sink heater.
- (c) Fixed bath. This means a bath permanently installed with a waste pipe leading outside the building. It does not matter for this purpose whether there is water piped to it or whether the room where it is installed is used only as a bathroom or not.
- (d) Watercloset. This means any watercloset emptying into a main sewer, septic tank or cesspool. It does not include a chemical closet or earth closet. It must be within the building or attached to it.

e.g., For a household which shares the use of a fixed bath and watercloset, and has the sole use of the cold water supply but has no hot water supply the entries would be:—

- (a) Cold water tap—Sole use.
